Try Terzo

In one of the city's best examples of a restaurant reflecting a neighborhood, Terzo in the Marina District is a quaint, comfortable and cozy—yet fresh and vibrant spot. It serves up Mediterranean-inspired dishes perfect to share. House specialties comfort and excite, like the chicken spiedini (poultry skewered with bread and onion slathered with a chile, paprika and cilantro sauce) and the hummus with pita straight from the oven. Sausages and cured meats are house-made. Sit fireside for an intimate evening, or dine at the expansive communal table front and center to make new friends.
